

Who am I

“In one sentence? No way. But maybe now you just want to know I’ve been doing innovation at Enel for, well, quite a long time”

What is my main message today?

«Technology is important but it’s just a tool. To innovate you must create meaning for people. You can’t do that with just technology”